

Why Voting FOR initiative 1125 Will Stop the 520 Project

- It prevents tolls on I-90 being used for the expansion of SR 520.
- It says tolls have to be the same all day and night.

This means there will be insufficient funding to build the west side of SR 520, and the floating bridge probably can't be expanded.

The Pros and Cons of Using Initiative 1125 to Stop 520

Initiative 1125 has some policies we don't like, including:

- It forbids tolls which vary by time of day to help control congestion.
- It prevents light rail on I-90.
- It prevents toll revenues from being used for maintenance and upgrading after the bonds are paid for.

However, the policies we don't like can be changed by the legislature after two years, but if the current plans for 520 are implemented, they will last beyond our lifetimes.

Voting for I-1125 will stop the expansion of SR 520 as it is now designed. A design that will ruin Seattle's bays and wetlands, harm Seattle neighborhoods, and cause even more congestion in the City.

This bad design needs to be improved before it is built. And while the short term damage that could be caused by I-1125 should not be underestimated, the long term consequences of allowing this river of concrete to flow through the City are so great, that it is worth considering the option of voting for I-1125.
